Originally hired as a P/T foundation coach, made F/T as system administrator within a small, cross-trained, team of four. Outgrew this team and promoted into more diverse roles approximately every four months in recognition of my work ethic and adaptability.

System Administrator

Second line support for bespoke inhouse ticketing system software, supporting 75 users across four sites. System was developed to support three additional business types in this time. I wrote roughly 25 development requests with supporting documentation & designs.

Ticketing & Memberships

IT specialist within a four-person team that included ticketing and memberships specialists. Cross-trained to deal with ticketing and memberships enquiries. Promoted to interim manager, leading team of two, overseeing post-season membership renewals. Introduced KPIs to a team that had attracted bad publicity as a result of disorganisation.

Control Oversight (Business Analyst)

Worked in a team of four to convert a business that was owed six-figures by debtors, had not invoiced properly since formation and which actually possessed 40% of the stock it had on file into a profitable business with strict controls and procedures in place.

IT Manager

Provide 1st line support, ensure uptime across all networks, project manage new builds and/or developments across all four sites in conjunction with suppliers. Reduced costs within IT department by identifying and targeting a “bodge” culture. To set standard, produced cabling map for new stand, cutting costs by ensuring efficient delivery.

Football

Coaching football, fuelled by an obsession with Football Manager, has been a passion of mine since I turned 18. In July 2015 I passed my Level 2 coaching certificate, a year after completing my Level 1. My coaching career held my second goal which was to coach at a professional football club, something I am proud to say I achieved in the 2015-16 season.
